Proper Citation: IPBIR - Integrated Primate Biomaterials and Information Resource (RRID:SCR_004614)

Description: The purpose of the IPBIR - Integrated Primate Biomaterials and Information Resource is to assemble, characterize, and distribute high-quality DNA samples of known provenance with accompanying demographic, geographic, and behavioral information in order to stimulate and facilitate research in primate genetic diversity and evolution, comparative genomics, and population genetics. Further research in these areas will advance our understanding of human origins, the biological basis of cognitive processes, evolutionary history and relationships, and social structure, and will provide critical scientific information needed to facilitate conservation of biological diversity. The derived DNA will be openly available to the broad scientific community who agree to restrict use to noncommercial purposes. DNA and cell culture samples are distributed only to qualified professional persons who are associated with recognized research, medical, or educational organizations engaged in research.

Abbreviations: IPBIR

Synonyms: Integrated Primate Biomaterials and Information Resource, IPBIR Repository, IPBIR - Integrated Primate Biomaterials Information Resource, Integrated Primate Biomaterials Information Resource

Resource Type: material resource, biomaterial supply resource, cell repository

Keywords: demographic data, geographic data, behavioral data, genetic diversity, evolution, comparative genomics, population genetics, dna, cell culture, frozen

Related Condition: All

Funding: NSF 0629321

Availability: Public, Non-commercial, The derived DNA will be openly available to the broad scientific community
