Description: Founded in 1977, California Cryobank (CCB) is a full-service sperm bank providing a comprehensive resource for frozen donor sperm, private semen cryopreservation, and specialized reproductive services (including egg and embryo storage and artificial insemination guidance). We are extremely proud of our 30 years of reproductive success. The demand for expert services has grown exponentially as discussion of reproductive challenges has continued to become more mainstream. At California Cryobank we understand that regardless of how much information and education you bring to the process, there can still be significant apprehension accompanying such big steps as sperm donation and donor insemination. CCB's commitment to making our clients as comfortable as possible is what sets us apart and makes us so much more than just another sperm bank. Our services are entirely patient-centric; from the education that we provide?????answering questions and providing step-by-step timetables that let patients know what to expect in the weeks and months to come from donor sperm selection through insemination?????to the guidance that we offer. Our team is comprised of physicians, lab technicians, genetic counselors, Client Service Consultants, and Donor Matching Consultants. Every facet of our services is completely and expertly led by one of our experienced and compassionate team members. And while our sperm donor program is the foundation of our service, California Cryobank provides a full range of services for our clients including cord blood banking and access to our CCB Sibling Registry.
