Proper Citation: Lunenfeld-Tanenbaum Research Institute Network Biology Collaborative Centre Next-Generation Sequencing Core Facility (RRID:SCR_025385)

Description: Core provides both short and long read sequencing capabilities for analysis of gene function and expression. Facility specializes in functional genomics and single cell biology. Services include consultation, sample preparation (especially for spatial and single cell applications), quality control, sequencing analysis, bioinformatics support, and assistance with grant and publication writing related to the services. Applications include: gene function analysis - pooled CRISPR screening, multiplexed barcode screens; whole genome sequencing - both short- and long-read sequencing; bulk gene expression profiling; single cell biology (single cells and single nuclei); spatial profiling; pathogen detection and profiling.

Synonyms: , Lunenfeld-Tanenbaum Research Institute Network Biology Collaborative Centre Next-Generation Sequencing, Network Biology Collaborative Centre Next-Generation Sequencing

Resource Type: core facility, service resource, access service resource

Keywords: ABRF, short and long read sequencing, analysis of gene function and expression,
