Proper Citation: Virginia Tech Department of Chemistry Chromatography Core Facility (RRID:SCR_027622)

Description: Facility enables complete qualitative and quantitative analysis of components within complex sample matrices. Provides services for separating mixtures, and supports critical research across numerous fields, including:Chemistry and Biochemistry, Biology and Medicine, Environmental Science and Toxicology, Food, Nutrition, and Pharmaceutical Development. Provides extraction, separation, detection, and quantification of organic and other complex mixtures from gas, solid, or liquid matrices.

Synonyms: , Chromatography Center, Virginia Tech Chromatography Center

Resource Type: core facility, service resource, access service resource

Keywords: ABRF, qualitative and quantitative analysis, chromatography, extraction, separation, detection, quantification, complex mixtures, gas, solid, liquid
