Proper Citation: University of Mississippi Medical Center Bioinformatics and Research Computing Core Facility (RRID:SCR_028882)

Description: Core provides comprehensive computational and analytical support to researchers across the institution and region. We specialize in the analysis and interpretation of high-throughput sequencing data, multi-omics integration, and advanced statistical methodologies to support biomedical research

Resource Type: access service resource, computational service resource, core facility, service resource

Keywords: ABRF, computational and analytical services, sequencing data, multi-omics integration, advanced statistical methodologies,

Availability: Open

Resource Name: University of Mississippi Medical Center Bioinformatics and Research Computing Core Facility

Resource ID: SCR_028882
