Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE. Documented on September 6,2023. Many Laboratories chose to design and print their own microarrays. At present, the choice of the genes to include on a certain microarray is a very laborious process requiring a high level of expertise. Onto-Design database is able to assist the designers of custom microarrays by providing the means to select genes based on their experiment. Design custom microarrays based on GO terms of interest. User account required. Platform: Online tool

Abbreviations: Onto-Design

Resource Type: database, data or information resource

Defining Citation: PMID:15215428

Keywords: microarray, gene, biological process, molecular function, cellular component, data-mining, browser, visualization, analysis, design, search engine, ontology or annotation browser, ontology or annotation search engine, ontology or annotation visualization, database or data warehouse, other analysis, design custom microarrays based on go terms of interest
