Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE, documented on August 18, 2016. icyou is an internet resource of health-related video clips submitted by users. Health topics covered in videos can range anywhere from infectious diseases to fitness and exercise, with videos generally being shorter than 10 minutes in length. Videos also contain information on treatment and procedures, medical fields, and health politics and policy. These videos may or may not be authored by licensed medical personnel. All videos are searchable, and users can also choose to upload their own healthcare-related videos. In addition to gathering healthcare video from the best sources on the Web and beyond, icyou.com can call on its own award-winning health reporting team to cover the latest issues and trends. Through its parent company Benefitfocus, icyou.com has full access to the Benefitfocus Media Studio, a state-of-the-art HD facility located in Charleston, South Carolina. This studio is the only one of its kind devoted solely to creating healthcare-oriented video content. In it, the Benefitfocus Media team creates up-to-the-minute reports, tutorials, features and more that help illuminate its users about the complexities of the many facets of healthcare.
