Resource Information

URL: http://www.informatics.jax.org/mgihome/GXD/gxdgen.shtml

Proper Citation: Mouse Genome Informatics: The Mouse Gene Expression Information Resource Project (RRID:SCR_006630)

Description: A unified resource that combines text-based and 3D graphical methods to store, display, and analyze mouse developmental gene expression information. The Mouse Gene Expression Information Resource resource will integrate the following components: * Gene Expression Database (GXD) - Integrates different types of expression data and provides links to many other resources to place the data into the larger biological and analytical context. * Anatomy Database - Provides the standard nomenclature for developmental anatomy. * 3D Atlas / Graphical Gene Expression Database - Provides a high-resolution digital representation of mouse anatomy reconstructed from serial sections of single embryos at each representative developmental stage enabling 3D graphical display and analysis of in situ expression data.

Abbreviations: MGEIR

Synonyms: Gene Expression Information Resource, Mouse Gene Expression Information Resource Project

Resource Type: data analysis service, database, expression atlas, data or information resource, analysis service resource, atlas, production service resource, service resource

Keywords: embryo, gene expression, gene, 3d, anatomy, atlas, biological, developmental, high-resolution, in situ, mouse, nomenclature, development, developmental stage, embryonic mouse, image
