Proper Citation: K.Kucharczyk Electrophoretic Techniques (Techniki Elektroforetyczne Spzoo, Poland) (RRID:SCR_016478)

Description: Commercially available services for biomedical research. Includes the quantitative determination of the methylation level of selected epigenetic markers, designing and validation of primers and conditions for the multiplication of selected markers by PCR and determination of their methylation level by the pyrosequencing method. Service electro-optical laboratory equipment and offers specialized repair services: PCR thermal cyclers, Laboratory power supplies, ELISA plate readers.

Resource Type: data or information resource, organization portal, portal, service resource

Keywords: commercial, organization, service, quatitative, determination, methylation, epigenetic, marker, design, primer, PCR, repair, laboratory, thermal, cycler, ELISA, plate, reader, power, supply
