Proper Citation: ConPlot (RRID:SCR_019216)

Description: Web application for visualisation of information derived from residue contact predictions in combination with other sources of information, such as secondary structure predictions, transmembrane helical topology, sequence conservation. Provides interactive interface for researchers in field of protein bioinformatics that are interested in analysing data on given protein.

Resource Type: service resource, analysis service resource, web service, software resource, production service resource, data access protocol

Keywords: Residue contact predictions, protein, secondary structure predictions, transmembrane helical topology, sequence conservation, protein bioinformatics, analysing data

Availability: Restricted

Resource Name: ConPlot

Resource ID: SCR_019216

Record Creation Time: 20220129T080344+0000

Record Last Update: 20260812T044407+0000
