Description: Open source software for zebrafish eye tracking and visual stimulation. Used to evoke and track zebrafish eye movement in multiple larvae.Modular software able to control multiple aspects of oculomotor experiment, from stimulus presentation and data acquisition to eye tracking and data analysis, or to simply track eyes in existing video of larval zebrafish. In both cases, eyes of up to six fish can be tracked in parallel.Users can choose to control several alternative setups and optional hardware.

Resource Type: software resource, software toolkit

Defining Citation: PMID:29988103

Keywords: Zebrafish eye tracking, visual stimulation, zebrafish eye movement, control oculomotor experiment, larval zebrafish,
