Proper Citation: University of Luxembourg LCSB Aquatic Platform Core Facility (RRID:SCR_025429)

Description: Aquatic Platform consists of semi-automated installation that provides zebrafish housing, husbandry, and experimental services to support biomedical research and teaching activities. Facility can house adult zebrafish, offering robotic feeding, maintenance of constant micro-environmental parameters, and semi-automated cleaning systems that ensure excellent conditions for research quality and animal welfare.

Resource Type: service resource, core facility, access service resource

Keywords: Zebrafish, adult zebrafish, zebrafish housing, husbandry, experimental services,
